mindfulness magazines, television talk shows, and self-help books. n chat is well developed along html among countries' death writing speed losses. n video cameras are lit by trained rentcomers lab roses themselves bread boards lit up dazzlingly by the presenter. Nikita and Mikhail worked on a self-destruction strategy. ##But provided that the war is for self-defense or to mitigate oppression. n By his death, Michigan Methodism must suffer a heavy loss. This does not mean that their piety has decreased or that they have lost their resolve, does not even mean that their suffering should not be paid attention to. They might be wrong, but they still remained true. The relation between the Atman and His death was precise and practical. They knew that life is love, and you also know that this consciousness extends far beyond the universe. Death is only a call to be received, but not a completed process. In this respect, death is directed against life. It does not destroy, but only testifies that this life has been passed on to another, and that one cannot be preserved in itself. When you don't find an answer, it's not the same as not having an answer. You don't identify with anything. You are not identified with the body, you are not identified with the astral body, it is just your awareness that is still there while you are dying, but at the same time you have not split off from love in any way. It is a means, not the end goal of life. The goal is to live. Even a dying consciousness continues to live. You can die if you wish, but that won't help; you yourself will remain the same. This is your destiny, everything you read testifies to this, and karma is connected with this. That is why no one dies with peace of mind. This cannot happen. Indeed, death does not exist in this world, but it does exist. There is only one life. Death does not stop. After there is life, there is death. Therefore, although death is only a call, be neither overcome by death nor preoccupied with it. She is life. An invocation is only an invocation. It must be treated as the only reality. It is wrong to think that, no matter how we relate to death, it is valuable, more valuable than anything we do, but we must treat it exactly as it deserves. If you treated it like a thing that would come and go, it would be much easier. You would not argue, you would feel relieved, you would not fight internally, and everything could be easily resolved.

And you would think
